Outstanding product and environmental features turn VIVO into a material decoration in application which can be individually designed. Today VIVO is applied in nearly all areas of everyday life.

- Resin coated layers (core paper), which are used as core material - Overlay paper, which is used to improve the erosion resistance - Melamine resin decorative paper, which is printed respectively coloured and defines the design
 Special surface structures (e.g. high gloss, matte or with structure) are given to the laminates by pressing plates. - Thus it is not surprising that the term VIVO becomes more and more the synonym for all types of decorative laminates.
